PRES. HOOVER PLEADS FOR WORLD COURT

ADDRESSED
D. A. R. CONGRESS
AT WASHINGTON

EXPECTED TO INVIGORATE SEN-ATE OPPOSITION TO AMERI-CAN ADHERENCE

ADDRESS GIVES A PANORAMIC
VIEW OF EFFORTS TO PREVENT WAR

By LYLE C. WILSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 15.—President Hoover's plea for the world court, contained in an address before the Daughters of the American Revolution, was expected today to invigorate senate opposition to American adherence.

Mr. Hoover spoke to the D. A. R. congress last night in Constitution hall. He suffered from a cold and Mrs. Hoover was so ill with the same malady she was unable to accompany him.

The address gave a panoramic view of efforts to prevent war, of which the president said naval and arms treaties, arbitration treaties, the world court, the Kellogg pact and other methods of international action were parts.

He predicted without qualification the United States would join the court, but recognized disagreement, he believes, will be solved.

The speech was a summons to membership in the court which, Mr. Hoover said, had been accepted by 90 per cent of the civilized peoples of the world. No other court, he said, is practicable.

The president spoke to 6,000 women, most of whom are influential in their respective communities. Observers remarked today that the speech emphasized the world court issue along with the London naval treaty and that if last night's audience went home convinced the president's positions were correct, he would have gained vastly useful support of his two major foreign relations problems—senate ratification of the London treaty and approval of world court membership.

Difficulties in applying the Kellogg anti-war pact to the Chinese-Russian dispute last year showed, Mr. Hoover said, "the clear need for some method of mobilization of public opinion against violation."

Mr. Hoover emphasized America's duty to take part in securing world peace but said this duty could not be performed without maintaining the fullest independence.

"The nations of Europe," he said, "surrounded as they are by dangers and problems of which we in the western hemisphere have but little appreciation, and beset by inherited fears, hold to the view that aside from the controversies and the maintenance of peace should be backed by potential coercion through the pooling of either military or economic strength."

"We do not question their right to come to such conclusions as they see fit to follow, arising as they do from their terrible experience and their necessities. But the instinct of the vast majority of our people is that our contribution is not to be based upon commitments to use force or to maintain peace."

Referring to armaments problems only as they were related to the greater question of preventing war, Mr. Hoover outlined progress since the war.

He said the London conference was assured of success. Terms being formulated now, he continued, would reduce Anglo-Japanese-American naval standards 25 per cent below those discussed at the Geneva conference and current naval programs would be reduced 12 per cent.

"But most important of all," Mr. Hoover continued, "it has been able to turn the tide of constantly increasing naval arms and to end the poison of suspicion and ill will generated by constant rivalry in construction."

Development of international law has created the opportunity, Mr. Hoover said for adjustment of justifiable disputes in an international court, which would make independent, just and legal decisions.

"Such a court—the world court," he continued, "has been established at The Hague with the aid of American jurists. It has been accepted by 90 per cent of the civilized people of the earth. I have no doubt that the United States will become a member of the court."

ST. LOUIS 'HOP
ALLEY' WATERLOO
FOR ENUMERATORS

St. Louis, April 15.—(U.P.)—St. Louis "Hop Alley" might be well renamed "Waterloo Boulevard." The district has been the nemesis of two census enumerators who turned in their portfolios after trying in vain to elicit the required information from taciturn Chinese who greeted them with the utmost cordiality and dismissed them with bland smiles and, "No speakee Engleeseh."

A third enumerator, accompanied by an interpreter, was attempting to overcome the reticence of the "Alley's" residents today.

DR. H. M. WHEELER
HAS "GONE WEST"

IDENTIFIED WITH FRONTIER
HISTORY OF NORTH-
FIELD, MINN.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 15.—(U.P.)—Dr. Henry M. Wheeler today had joined those other frontiersmen who had "gone west" forever.

The physician, who gained his fame when he shot a member of the Younger-James gang which unsuccessfully held up the First National Bank of Northfield, Minn., Sept. 7, 1876, died peacefully from heart disease yesterday.

The quiet doctor's funeral will be held this afternoon while hundreds of representatives of the "new west" which he saw grow will pay tribute to one of the picturesque figures of the earlier and wilder days. The body will be taken to Northfield for burial near that of Clell Miller and Joseph Heywood, who died during the bank robbery.

The climax of the doctor's 75 years was a fall day in 1876 when as a young college student he led the attack on the bandits that attempted one of the frontier west's boldest bank hold-ups.

The men rode into Northfield shooting and shouting as they ran up to the bank.

Disregarding the orders of the three men who ran into the bank, Heywood, the cashier, swung the safe door. Shots rang out, and Heywood fell near the money he had protected—dead.

Young Wheeler was in his room over the general store about a half block from the bank. When the bandits rode into town and began shooting to scare everybody off the streets, he shot at them from behind the curtains of his window. His shots killed one bandit, Clell Miller, and two horses.

Other shots began coming from the river side of the town. So without waiting to open the safe, the robbers ran out and rode away taking with them Robert Younger who had been wounded.

Miller, their guide, had been killed, and their retreat was hampered by the wounded man. The Younger brothers took a horse from a farmer they met on the road and rode into the heavy timber. The Youngers' progress was slow and Frank and Jesse James left them.

The Youngers were captured near Mankato, convicted and sentenced to the Minnesota penitentiary. The James brothers wandered back into Missouri after a time in the Minnesota wilderness.

ANNUAL EASTER
EGG ROLLING
AT WHITE HOUSE

London, April 15.—(U.P.)—The Duchess of York, wife of the second son of King George, has cancelled all forthcoming engagements and will not undertake any further functions during the summer.

The official announcement today caused society circles to believe an addition to the royal family was expected. The duke and duchess now have one child, little Princess Elizabeth, who will be four years old next Monday.

SHELVE NORRIS
RESOLUTION ON MUSCLE SHOALS

Washington, April 15.—(U.P.)—The house military affairs committee definitely shelved the Norris resolution providing for government operation of Muscle Shoals today.

The bill was withdrawn after preliminary discussion within the committee revealed widespread opposition. The bill passed the senate for the third time several weeks ago.

A sub-committee of five was appointed to draw up a new bill providing for leasing of Muscle Shoals to a private corporation.

Representative Reese (Rep., Tenn.) was named chairman of the sub-committee and other members are Representatives Stanford (Rep., Wis.); Cochran (Rep., Pa.); Douglas (Dem., Ariz.); and McSwain (Dem., S. C.).

GOVERNMENT CHARGES INVE-STORS DEFAUDED OF
ABOUT $2,000,000

St. Paul, Minn., April 15.—(U.P.)—A blanket indictment charging 29 former salesmen and officials of the Diamond Motor Parts Company, of St. Cloud, with using the mails to defraud was returned today by the federal grand jury.

Judge John B. Sanborn, before whom the indictment was returned, immediately ordered issuance of bench warrants for arrest of the defendants.

The government charged that investors throughout the United States were defrauded of approximately $2,000,000. Losses to Minnesota investors were said to total $200,000.

The salesmen and officials were charged with using the mails to defraud in the sale of allegedly fraudulent securities.

The concern was incorporated under the laws of Minnesota Sept. 30, 1924, with capital of $3,000,000. About a year ago the company went into receivership and, according to court records, the receivership never was dissolved.

The company was taken over later by Aluminum Industries, Inc., of Cleveland.

In considering the case, the federal grand jury heard some 45 witnesses from all parts of the northwest. The case was presented by M. F. Kinkaid, assistant United States district attorney for Minnesota.

Federal postal inspectors had been investigating the company for six months.

Persons who heard the testimony in the case said it may excite the recent fur farm scandals which caused the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to Minnesota investors.

The company now occupies the quarters and was using the equipment of the Pan Motors Company of St. Cloud.

St. Paul, Minn., April 15.—F. H. Shoemaker, Red Wing, editor of "The Organized Farmer," was indicted today by the federal grand jury on a charge of sending through the mails an envelope carrying an "allegedly malicious and defamatory indorsement."

The jury also returned an indictment against William Taylor Hanks,

POLICE HOLD
MINISTER'S SON
AS A SUSPECT

MIL CITY AUTHORITIES CON-TINUE INVESTIGATION OF
DOROTHY AUNE CASE

MILWAUKEE MAN SAID TO HAVE
MOLESTED GIRLS IN AUNE
NEIGHBORHOOD

Minneapolis, Minn., April 15.—(U.P.)—Police today said they were holding the son of a Milwaukee, Wis., minister as a suspect in the brutal slaying of Dorothy Aune, 12, last summer.

The Milwaukee man was said to have admitted molesting other little girls in the Aune neighborhood, but denied he knew the slain child. He was reported to have visited Minneapolis last August as a salesman for a church organ manufacturing firm.

Through a check with Wisconsin officials police said they learned the suspect drove an automobile similar to the one in which the girl was believed to have been abducted, attacked and killed. Her mutilated body was found in a gutter, bound up in gunny sacks.

FORMER "BOY
SHERIFF" FACES
MURDER CHARGE

FORMER OFFICIAL OF JUNEAU
COUNTY, WIS., NOW IN CUSTODY

CHARGED WITH KILLING HIS
POLITICAL ENEMY, DISTRICT
ATTORNEY PRICE

Mauston, Wis., April 15.—(U.P.)—The former "boy sheriff" of Juneau county, Lyall T. Wright, faced a formal charge of murder today in a warrant naming him as the slayer of his political enemy, District Attorney Clinton G. Price.

Wright has been in custody since shortly after Price was shot to death in his home Sunday night. Six slugs from a shotgun tore through the screen door of the Price kitchen, where the prosecutor was chatting with his wife, and lodged in his back. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

A rowboat, with blood staining its sides, led to discovery of a trail of blood leading away from the Lemon Wier river bank and to Wright's doorstep. Wright's middle finger had been cut to the bone.

The suspect, a 30-year-old world war veteran who suffered shell shock overseas, denied guilt.

"I didn't do it," he shouted in a frenzy, straining at the bars of his cell. "They're trying to frame me." Enmity between Price and Wright dated from a liquor conspiracy investigation. Wright pleaded guilty, accusing Price of conspiracy. The latter was acquitted.

Reports that Price had been on the verge of telling a story that would "blow the lid off liquor conditions in Juneau county" were persistent today. Many expected Wright would tell the story when he was arraigned.

GOAT EATS UP
HER CENSUS BOOK

Madison, Conn., April 15.—(U.P.)—The taking of Madison's farm census is not a task to be relished, Miss Gertrude Bassett, enumerator, said today. Calling at the farm of Frank Hald, she left her data book on the running board of her automobile and approached Hald.

"How many goats have you?" she asked.

"That's the only one," replied Hald, pointing to a bewhiskered animal standing beside the enumerator's automobile with a scrap of paper projecting from his jaws.

The census book had disappeared.

RENEWED RIOTS
IN INDIA CAUSE
SEVERAL DEATHS

Calcutta, India, April 15.—(U.P.)—Several deaths and a number of casualties were reported after a renewed outburst of rioting between revolutionary demonstrators and police today.

Calcutta, India, April 15.—(U.P.)—Rioting which was started by Indian revolutionaries who demonstrated in the streets of Calcutta was quelled late today after a vigorous offensive by police. About 70 persons, including 15 European police and 11 firemen, were injured.

ENGINEER DIES,
HAND ON THROTTLE

R. C. CRANE, 68, DIES AT END OF
RUN ON MILWAUKEE
ROAD

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—(U.P.)—With his hand on the throttle of the engine which he had brought to a stop at the end of a 150-mile run from Green Bay, Engineer R. C. Crane, 68, Elkhart Lake, died in the freight terminal of the Milwaukee road here last night.

Through a myriad of twinkling signal lights, a maze of curves, switches and terminal tracks, Crane, who had been with the Milwaukee road since 1890, made a successful run without mishap. His fireman, Herman Franzen, Green Bay, told authorities that Crane had seemed well on the trip but had said little.

Railroad officials said the engineer apparently had conserved his strength until the minute when he brought his train to a stop in the terminal and made his last run on time.

PROHIBITION POLL ON NATIONAL SCALE

NATIONAL PROHIBITION SURVEY TO COMMENCE IN TEN DAYS

Atlanta, Ga., April 15.—(U.P.)—A prohibition poll on a national scale with ballots for 32,000,000 will be opened here within 10 days to obtain "non-partisan" data for educational and legislative purposes, Edward Kennedy of the National Prohibition Survey, announced here today.

Questionnaires containing 15 questions covering virtually the entire liquor controversy will be sent out from here and from 20 district offices located in strategic parts of the United States, Kennedy said. Qualified voters in the last presidential election will be circulated, he said.

Members of the national advisory committee for the poll, as announced by Kennedy include:

Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, Mississippi.
Governor Harvey Parnell, Arkansas.
Governor John Simpson, Kentucky.
Governor John Hammill, Iowa.
Mrs. Anna Wilde Strumquist, New Mexico.

TRANS-OCEANIC
BROADCASTING
CHANNELS DOUBLED

Washington, April 15.—(U.P.)—Trans-oceanic broadcasting channels will be virtually doubled Jan. 1, 1931, as the result of the Federal Radio commission's action in narrowing the separation of frequencies from 2 to 1 per cent as recommended by the house radio conference last summer.

Disposition of the channels will be left to another international radio conference, the commission said. The action prevents the Radio Corporation of America and Press Wireless, which now control 85 channels, from receiving any immediate increases, however, it was said.

PRES. AND MRS. HOOVER
SUFFER FROM COLDS

Washington, April 15.—(U.P.)—President and Mrs. Hoover, who have been suffering from slight colds, were reported greatly improved today.

Mrs. Hoover has been confined to the White House for two days, but Dr. Joel T. Boone said her condition has shown marked improvement. The president put in a busy day, with cabinet and press meetings and numerous callers.

FAR-FLUNG CAMPAIGN AGAINST LIQUOR COMBINE

LATTER'S MODERN BUSINESS
METHODS BROUGHT RING'S
EARNINGS TO $1,250,000

DRY FORCES MOVE INTO NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY AND PENNSYLVANIA

New York, April 15.—(U.P.)—Striking into three states, Prohibition Administrator William J. Calhoun and more than 50 federal agents today carried forward a far-flung campaign against a huge liquor combine whose modern business methods enabled it to earn $1,250,000 weekly.

Into New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania the agents moved after receiving instructions from Calhoun's office in Newark to start the major drive against the big syndicate, whose existence was first revealed last October through a decoded radio message.

Bearings warrants for 58 men indicted by a federal grand jury, the agents swept down first on New Jersey seaboard cities. The first person arrested was Charles Maguire, Chief of Police of Keansburg, N. J., who was taken into Newark for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Joseph F. Holland. Charles Weiner, a motorcycle patrolman, of Elizabeth, N. J., was one of the next and with Joseph Maillet, pilot of Perth Amboy, N. J., the three were charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. They were held in $10,000 bail each. Five others were arrested later.

Thus, six months after a clerk in Washington decoded a radio message sent from the liquor combine's station near Atlantic Highland, N. J., the fight definitely has been brought into the open.

The ring, officials said, has business offices in New York, operated a roadhouse, controlled a radio station, and used six freighters and ten speedboats to carry its products into three states. At the time of its discovery it was described as probably one of the most efficiently organized rum-running outfits in history.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—Unable to furnish the highest bond ever asked or imposed in a federal liquor case here, Walter Ross, Oconomowoc, was held in the county jail today awaiting trial on charges of being the owner of a huge still which agents raided at Oconomowoc last January. His bail was set at $10,000 by U. S. Commissioner Harry L. Kellogg.

The unusually high bail was asked by H. Frank Cunningham, deputy prohibition administrator, who told Commissioner Kellogg that Ross escaped on the day of the raid, went to Cuba and Mexico, returned to Oconomowoc and was planning to leave for Canada when arrested Sunday.

London, April 15.—A bill under which Great Britain could co-operate actively in suppressing liquor smuggling into the United States received first reading in the house of commons today.

The bill would enable the board of trade to suspend or cancel the certificates of any master, mate or engineer engaging in the illicit importation of liquor into the United States.

BICK BARTELL HITS
SEASON'S FIRST HOMER

Redland Park, Cincinnati, April 15.—(U.P.)—Dick Bartell, Pittsburgh infielder, hit the first home run of the 1930 major league season today, off Red Lucas of the Cincinnati Reds in the first inning.

Ralston Hemsley, Pittsburgh catcher, followed with another off Lucas in the second.

Philadelphia, April 15.—(U.P.)—Al Simmons, who settled salary negotiations with the Philadelphia Athletics just before the start of today's game, hit a home run in the last half of the first inning.

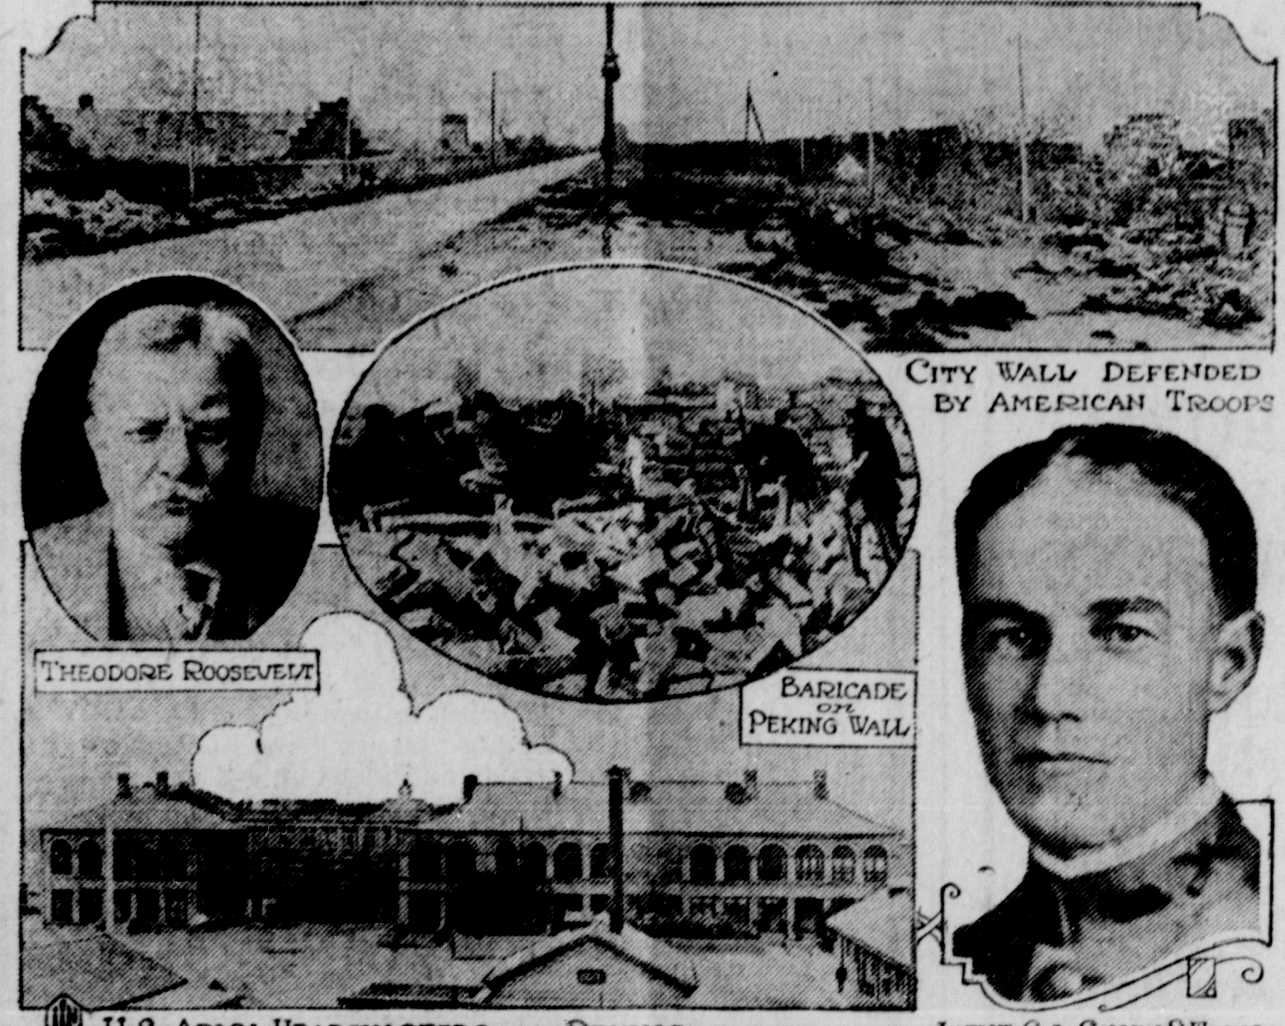

CAMPAIGN CHEST
OF MRS. McCORMICK
TO BE SCRUTINIZED

Washington, April 15.—(U.P.)—The campaign chest that carried Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick to a sensational victory over Senator Deneen, republican, Illinois, in the recent republican senatorial primary in Illinois, will be the first one scrutinized by the newly-created senatorial campaign and expenditures committee.

The committee, headed by Senator Nye, republican, N. D., will meet tomorrow to plan its investigation of the Illinois contest. Nye was appointed chairman yesterday after Senator Johnson, republican, Calif., had refused to serve.

The committee has received several complaints of enormous campaign expenditures in the McCormick-Deneen campaign, the first of the year's primaries.

First Man Over Peking Wall Retires

U.S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN PEKING

Lieutenant-Colonel Titus gained world fame as a bugler at the Boxer rebellion, thirty years ago. He was the first man to go over the wall at Peking. The armies of six foreign powers were massing outside the great walls of Peking, when the gallant young bugler volunteered to go over the walls of the beleaguered city. He was hoisted over the end of a pole into a city of desolation and horror, and his brave act in helping to liberate the "foreigners" from untold horrors, won for him the medal of honor, which was pinned on his breast by President Theodore Roosevelt. At his own request, having given thirty years of service, Lieutenant-Colonel Titus plans retirement, and has returned to his home at Vinton, Ia.

AS A SUSPECT

MIL CITY AUTHORITIES CON-
TINUE INVESTIGATION OF
DOROTHY AUNE CASE

MILWAUKEE MAN SAID TO HAVE
MOLESTED GIRLS IN AUNE
NEIGHBORHOOD

Minneapolis, Minn., April 15.—(U.P.)—Police today said they were holding the son of a Milwaukee Wis., minister as a suspect in the brutal slaying of Dorothy Aune, 12, last summer.

The Milwaukee man was said to have admitted molesting other little girls in the Aune neighborhood, but denied he knew the slain child. He was reported to have visited Minneapolis last August as a salesman for a church organ manufacturing firm.

Through a check with Wisconsin officials police said they learned the suspect drove an automobile similar to the one in which the girl was believed to have been abducted, attacked and killed. Her mutilated body was found in a gutter, bound up in gunny sacks.

Indian, charged with killing his wife, Jane, his step-son, Alvin, and his wife's great grandfather, Shah-Ga-Bay, on the Mille Lacs Indian reservation.

FORMER "BOY
SHERIFF" FACES
MURDER CHARGE

FORMER OFFICIAL OF JUNEAU
COUNTY, WIS., NOW IN CUSTODY

CHARGED WITH KILLING HIS
POLITICAL ENEMY, DISTRICT
ATTORNEY PRICE

Mauston, Wis., April 15.—(U.P.)—The former "boy sheriff" of Juneau county, Lyall T. Wright, faced a formal charge of murder today in a warrant naming him as the slayer of his political enemy, District Attorney Clinton G. Price.

Wright has been in custody since shortly after Price was shot to death in his home Sunday night. Six slugs from a shotgun tore through the screen door of the Price kitchen, where the prosecutor was chatting with his wife, and lodged in his back. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

A rowboat, with blood staining its sides, led to discovery of a trail of blood leading away from the Lemon Wier river bank and to Wright's doorstep. Wright's middle finger had been cut to the bone.

The suspect, a 30-year-old world war veteran who suffered shell shock overseas, denied guilt.

"I didn't do it," he shouted in a frenzy, straining at the bars of his cell. "They're trying to frame me."

Enmity between Price and Wright dated from a liquor conspiracy investigation. Wright pleaded guilty, accusing Price of conspiracy. The latter was acquitted.

Reports that Price had been on the verge of telling a story that would "blow the lid off liquor conditions in Juneau county" were persistent today. Many expected Wright would tell the story when he was arraigned.

GOAT EATS UP
HER CENSUS BOOK

Madison, Conn., April 15.—(U.P.)—The taking of Madison's farm census is not a task to be relished, Miss Gertrude Bassett, enumerator, said today.

Calling at the farm of Frank Hald, she left her data book on the running board of her automobile and approached Hald.

"How many goats have you?" she asked.

"That's the only one," replied Hald, pointing to a bewhiskered animal standing beside the enumerator's automobile with a scrap of paper projecting from his jaws.

The census book had disappeared.

ENGINEER DIES,
HAND ON THROTTLE

R. C. CRANE, 68, DIES AT END OF
RUN ON MILWAUKEE
ROAD

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—(U.P.)—With his hand on the throttle of the engine which he had brought to a stop at the end of a 150-mile run from Green Bay, Engineer R. C. Crane, 68, Elkhart Lake, died in the freight terminal of the Milwaukee road here last night.

Through a myriad of twinkling signal lights, a maze of curves, switches and terminal tracks, Crane, who had been with the Milwaukee road since 1890, made a successful run without mishap. His fireman, Herman Franzen, Green Bay, told authorities that Crane had seemed well on the trip but had said little.

Railroad officials said the engineer apparently had conserved his strength until the minute when he brought his train to a stop in the terminal and made his last run on time.

The ring, officials said, has business offices in New York, operated a roadhouse, controlled a radio station, and used six freighters and ten speedboats to carry its products into three states. At the time of its discovery it was described as probably one of the most efficiently organized rum-running outfits in history.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—Unable to furnish the highest bond ever asked or imposed in a federal liquor case here, Walter Ross, Oconomowoc, was held in the county jail today awaiting trial on charges of being the owner of a huge still which agents raided at Oconomowoc last January. His bail was set at $10,000 by U. S. Commissioner Harry L. Kellogg.

The unusually high bail was asked by H. Frank Cunningham, deputy prohibition administrator, who told Commissioner Kellogg that Ross escaped on the day of the raid, went to Cuba and Mexico, returned to Oconomowoc and was planning to leave for Canada when arrested Sunday.

Washington, April 15.—(U.P.)—Trans-oceanic broadcasting channels will be virtually doubled Jan. 1, 1931, as the result of the Federal Radio commission's action in narrowing the separation of frequencies from 2 to 1 per cent as recommended by the house radio conference last summer.

Disposition of the channels will be left to another international radio conference, the commission said. The action prevents the Radio Corporation of America and Press Wireless, which now control 85 channels, from receiving any immediate increases, however, it was said.

DRY FORCES MOVE INTO NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY AND
PENNSYLVANIA

New York, April 15.—(U.P.)—Striking into three states, Prohibition Administrator William J. Calhoun and more than 50 federal agents today carried forward a far-flung campaign against a huge liquor combine whose modern business methods enabled it to earn $1,250,000 weekly.

Into New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania the agents moved after receiving instructions from Calhoun's office in Newark to start the major drive against the big syndicate, whose existence was first revealed last October through a decoded radio message.

Bearings warrants for 58 men indicted by a federal grand jury, the agents swept down first on New Jersey seaboard cities. The first person arrested was Charles Maguire, Chief of Police of Keansburg, N. J., who was taken into Newark for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Joseph F. Holland.

Charles Weiner, a motorcycle patrolman, of Elizabeth, N. J., was one of the next and with Joseph Maillet, pilot of Perth Amboy, N. J., the three were charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. They were held in $10,000 bail each. Five others were arrested later.

Thus, six months after a clerk in Washington decoded a radio message sent from the liquor combine's station near Atlantic Highlands, N. J., the light definitely has been brought into the open.

First Man Over Peking Wall Retires

Lieutenant-Colonel Titus gained world fame as a bugler at the Boxer rebellion, thirty years ago. He was the first man to go over the wall at Peking. The armies of six foreign powers were massing outside the great walls of Peking, when the gallant young bugler volunteered to go over the walls of the beleaguered city. He was hoisted over on the end of a pole into a city of desolation and horror, and his brave act in helping to liberate the "foreigners" from untold horrors, won for him the medal of honor, which was pinned on his breast by President Theodore Roosevelt. At his own request, having given thirty years of service, Lieutenant-Colonel Titus plans retirement, and has returned to his home at Vinton, Ia.

Tourists Coming to Brainerd Lake Region

SUNDAY brought many tourists to the lakes in the Brainerd Lake Region. Out at North Round lake, at Gull lake and other sections, cottage owners came from the Cities to enjoy Sunday and Easter vacation at the lakes. Homes were aired out and properties cleaned up.

Many tourists came to town and their trailers carried everything imaginable from boats to furniture and supplies.

John F. Hurley reports an early purchase of lake property. A Florida family which has visited here many seasons bought a cottage at Merrifield and is now established there.

Roads in the district are improving. The urge of spring is in the air. ## Ice at the Lakes

THE ice at the lakes near Brainerd is an uncertain quantity. North Long lake, for instance, is clear. It is a shallow lake and sun and wind work unhindered.

Round lake, just north of it, has clear water near the north shore lines and ice crowded runways at the south, while the mass of ice in the center is still intact.

Gull and Hubert lakes carry ice. Out at Mille Lacs lake there is open water along the shores but the main ice is still intact. A heavy wind will break it up and it will then pile on whatever shore the wind throws it. Last year the ice at Mille Lacs lake "went out" on April 13. Motorists remember some years ago when the ice "went out" and crowded up a hillside south of Garrison and many a Fourth of July picnic found cheap ice by chopping a block from the mass.

Huge Figures in Advertising

A TOTAL of $260,000,000 was spent for newspaper advertising in 1929, according to a review of the year issued by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers association.

The automobile industry showed the largest volume of expenditures. Twenty-three manufacturers of cars and trucks paid $64,245,000 for advertisements in newspapers during the year.

According to the bureau 1929 was a record year for newspaper advertising, some classifications showing lineage increases from 25 to 80 per cent.

SPRING SPORTS

TRACK AND KITTENBALL CANDI-DATES URGED TO TRY OUT SOON

With comparatively small turnouts, present, for either track or kittenball, no definite schedule has been arranged for the spring athletic program. The amount of practice put into either sport largely depends on whether or not any diamondball games or track meets will be had with other schools, according to Coach Katch.

An annual affair for tracksters is the district meet at Little Falls, and in all probability the Warriors should have a good representation of men by then, although at present practice sessions are somewhat irregular and can only be remedied by the consistent turnout of candidates.

DESIGNED PROGRESSIVELY BUILT FAITHFULLY

REGARDLESS of price, quality in materials, or workmanship, a motor car must be given the initial advantage of correct design if it is to prove satisfactory in the hands of owners.

That is why Olds Motor Works has brought together a most capable engineering staff. That is why Olds Motor Works has given these men the finest of equipment and the most complete of laboratories in which to work. That is why Olds Motor Works places emphasis first of all, and always, upon progressive design in Oldsmobile and Viking.

It is evident that in order to obtain full advantages from this advanced and basically sound design, workmanship must be of the highest character. It must be uniform and consistent in quality. It must be faithful to the point of idealism. That is why Oldsmobile-Viking workers follow the rule expressed by this pledge, "Anything short of my best is not acceptable."

Any Oldsmobile or Viking owner will tell you what these things mean when interpreted in terms of performance, comfort, dependability, and long life.

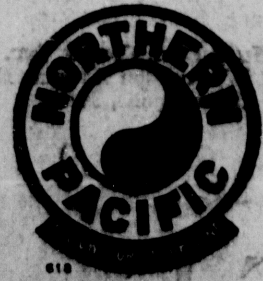

If you are interested in a car in any but the very lowest or the highest price classes, come and judge Oldsmobile and Viking. Drive them over roads of your own choosing. You will then know the advantages that inevitably result from progressive design and faithful manufacture.

Tourists Coming to Brainerd Lake Region

SUNDAY brought many tourists to the lakes in the Brainerd Lake Region. Out at North Round lake, at Gull lake and other sections, cottage owners came from the Cities to enjoy Sunday and Easter vacation at the lakes. Homes were aired out and properties cleaned up.

Many tourists came to town and their trailers carried everything imaginable from boats to furniture and supplies.

John F. Hurley reports an early purchase of lake property. A Florida family which has visited here many seasons bought a cottage at Merrifield and is now established there.

16 MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CLUBS PARADE 1930 CONTENDERS

RACE IS ON IN AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUES

WHATEVER COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED IN TRAINING HAS BEEN DONE

WILL BE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST AS SEPTEMBER FINALS COME

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 15.—Sixteen major league ball clubs parade their 1930 contenders today in the grand and glorious opening of the baseball season.

Shortly after the parades, the two major pennant races will be on, with everyone optimistic.

Whatever could be accomplished during the training period in sunny climes has been done, and from now on down to the decisive battles of next September it will be a case of survival of the fittest.

The experts have picked the pennant winners of 1929, the Philadelphia Athletics, in the American League and the Chicago Cubs in the National League, to repeat their triumphs of last season, but the uncertainty of the national pastime provides plenty of hope for the clubs which bloom each spring.

In the National League where the pace race figures to be quite as close as usual, the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals and even the somewhat laggard Brooklyn Robins are counted upon to provide stern opposition for the champions of 1929.

Astride the American League, the world champion Philadelphia club stands like a colossus, but the New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers have served notice that they refuse to be written out of the race.

Bands will play, pennants will be hoisted and first balls tossed out more or less inaccurately in eight major league cities about mid-afternoon.

Already the Boston Red Sox, having defeated the Washington Senators in a game which anticipated the season's opening at the national capital yesterday, are out in front with a perfect average of 1.000 per cent.

Following the custom of several years' standing, eastern teams in both leagues are pitted against eastern teams today, with western clubs battling among themselves in the opening series.

Approximately 300,000 fans will witness the opening games this afternoon while the number which will follow the season's inaugural by radio, scoreboard and newspapers cannot be estimated.

The schedule and probable opening game batteries:

National League
At New York: Boston, Seibold and Spohrer; New York, Walker and Hogan.

At Brooklyn: Philadelphia, Sweetland and Davis; Brooklyn, Clark and Pichich.

At Cincinnati: Pittsburgh, Kremer and Hensley; Cincinnati, Lucas and Gooch.

At St. Louis: Chicago, Blake and Hartnett; St. Louis, Johnson and Wilson.

American League
At Philadelphia: New York, Piggas and Dickey; Philadelphia, Groves and Cochran.

At Boston: Washington, Jones and Ruel; Boston, Ruffing and Berry.

At Chicago: Cleveland, Hudlin and L. Sewell; Chicago, Thomas and Berg.

At Detroit: St. Louis, Gray and Ferrell; Detroit, Sorrell and Shek.

BEAT BANDIT BUT INJURED HIS HAND, LOSING RING DOUTS

Chicago, April 15.—(U.P.)—Pete Whitort, Chicago, bandit who whose knockout record by becoming impressive, resolved today to confine his milling to the prize ring.

As he walked down the street with $9 in his pocket, a would-be robber accosted him. Whitort grabbed the gun and held the stick-up man on the law to drive the $9.

But Whitort's hand was broken and the amount he asked for the blow meant little to him today as he cancelled his bout for the next few weeks.

HOLLOW VICTORY CAUSES PURSES TO BE HELD UP

CALIFORNIA ATHLETIC COMMISSION TO PROBE THE WHOLE AFFAIR

EVERYTHING AT FIGHT WAS SO CONFUSING, SAYS COMMISSIONER TRAUING

San Francisco, April 15.—(U.P.)—The hollow victory of Primo Carnera, Italy's challenger for the heavyweight championship, over Leon "Bombo" Chevalier at Oakland last night will be completely investigated by the California Athletic Commission today or tomorrow.

Charles Trauing, commissioner with jurisdiction over northern California, announced that purses of the two fighters had been held up pending the inquiry.

Trauing said he doubted if many mysterious angles surrounding sudden termination of the bout in the sixth round when Carnera was behind on points would be cleared up until principals in the affair had been interrogated.

"I don't know what happened although I was there," he said. "Everything was so confusing."

Chevalier, a giant negro who looked small alongside Carnera, had taken a nine count but was standing on his feet and fighting back valiantly when one of his seconds threw a towel into the ring after two minutes and 15 seconds of fighting in the sixth round. Chevalier landed the cleaner blows and sent many a punch against Carnera's jaw. The negro also made the giant Italian back up repeatedly. He did not hit Carnera on the body once, sending every blow in the direction of the head.

Carnera missed repeatedly and scored only one knockdown, which came about 30 seconds before the bout ended. Chevalier took a nine count, but was up on one knee for the last five count.

An offer of $750,000 for a bout between Jack Dempsey and Carnera had been announced today by William P. Kyne, prominent San Francisco sportsman.

The announcement followed a conference between Kyne and Gene Nor-mile, former business manager of Dempsey.

Underwriting in FIRE INSURANCE

Who shall, or shall not, be insured; what property shall, or shall not, be covered; and what amount of insurance shall be accepted, if any? These are problems which daily face the underwriter.

Fire insurance companies do not insure property, but do insure and safeguard the interests of persons or corporations in property.

The property owner's character, financial ability to possess and maintain the property, the usefulness of the property to its owner, his fire record, if any, and other pertinent particulars, concern the underwriter.

Property to Be Covered

The type of property to be covered, be it dwelling, mercantile, manufacturing or personal property, as well as construction, occupancy, fire protection, exposure, damageability, amount of insurance carried compared with the value of the property, along with many other conditions, must be studied by the underwriter.

The underwriter is equipped with insurance maps, surveys, engineering data, confidential character and financial reports, fire records, and other information upon which to base his judgment of a particular line of insurance.

Broad Experience

16 MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CLUBS PARADE 1930 CONTENDERS

RACE IS ON IN AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUES

WHATEVER COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED IN TRAINING HAS BEEN DONE

WILL BE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST AS SEPTEMBER FINALS COME

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 15.—Sixteen major league ball clubs parade their 1930 contenders today in the grand and glorious opening of the baseball season.

Shortly after the parades, the two major pennant races will be on, with everyone optimistic.

Whatever could be accomplished during the training period in sunny climates has been done, and from now on down to the decisive battles of next September it will be a case of survival of the fittest.

The experts have picked the pennant winners of 1929, the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League and the Chicago Cubs in the National League, to repeat their triumphs of last season, but the uncertainty of the national pastime provides plenty of hopes which bloom each spring.

In the National League where the flag race figures to be quite as close as usual, the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals and even the somewhat lowly Brooklyn Robins are counted upon to provide stern opposition for the champions of 1929.

As for the American League, the world champion Philadelphia club stands like a colossus, but the New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers have served notice that they refuse to be written out of the race.

Bands will play, pennants will be hoisted and first balls tossed out more or less inaccurately in eight major league cities about mid-afternoon.

Already the Boston Red Sox, having defeated the Washington Senators in a game which anticipated the season's opening at the national capital yesterday, are out in front with a perfect average of 1.000 per cent.

Following the custom of several years' standing, eastern teams in both leagues will play against eastern teams today, with western clubs battling among themselves in the opening series.

Approximately 300,000 fans will witness the opening games this afternoon while the number which will follow the season's inaugural by radio, scoreboard and newspapers cannot be estimated.

The schedule and probable opening game batteries:

National League
At New York: Boston, Seibold and Spohrer; New York, Walker and Hogan.
At Brooklyn: Philadelphia, Sweetland and Davis; Brooklyn, Clark and Pichette.
At Cincinnati: Pittsburgh, Kremer and Hemeny; Cincinnati, Lucas and Gooch.
At St. Louis: Chicago, Blake and Hartnett; St. Louis, Johnson and Wilson.

American League
At Philadelphia: New York, Pipgras and Dickey; Philadelphia, Groves and Cochran.
At Boston: Washington, Jones and Ruel; Boston, Ruffing and Berry.
At Chicago: Cleveland, Hudlin and L. Sewell; Chicago, Thomas and Berg.
At Detroit: St. Louis, Gray and Ferrell; Detroit, Sorrell and Shea.

BEAT BANDIT BUT INJURED HIS HAND, LOSING RING BOUTS

Chicago, April 15.—Pete Whitort, Chicago heavyweight whose knockout record is becoming impressive, resolved today to confine his milling to the prize ring.

As he walked down the street with $9 in his pocket, a would-be robber accosted him, and he grabbed the gun from the hand of the stick-up man on the way to save the $9.

But Whitort's hand was broken and the amount he saved by the blow meant little to him, for he cancelled his bout for the next few weeks.

Philadelphia, April 15.—(U.P.)—The highest priced baseball player of the world will go into the next game under the handicap of a bad leg.

VAN'S CAFE WINS 3 GAMES FROM PETERSON CO.

BRainerd ELECTRICS TAKE 2 GAMES FROM THE LIVERY AUTO

Van's Cafe won three games from Peterson Clothing Co. last evening, the clothing being represented by but three men. He hit 233 the first game but his big count with Rowell's 207 failed by 9 pins margin. Van's 207 and the clothing men 389. The league leaders had 300 and 337 in the final games. ## HOLLOW VICTORY CAUSES PURSES TO BE HELD UP

CALIFORNIA ATHLETIC COMMISSION TO PROBE THE WHOLE AFFAIR

EVERYTHING AT FIGHT WAS SO CONFUSING, SAYS COMMISSIONER TRAUNG

San Francisco, April 15.—(U.P.)—The hollow victory of Primo Carnera, Italy's challenger for the heavyweight championship, over Leon "Bombo" Chevalier at Oakland last night will be completely investigated by the California Athletic Commission today or tomorrow.

Charles Traung, commissioner with jurisdiction over northern California, announced that purses of the two fighters had been held up pending the inquiry.

Traung said he doubted if many mysterious angles surrounding sudden termination of the bout in the sixth round when Carnera was behind on points would be cleared up until principals in the affair had been interrogated.

"I don't know what happened although I was there," he said. "Everything was so confusing."

Chevalier, a giant negro who looked small alongside Carnera, had taken a nine count but was standing on his feet and fighting back valiantly when one of his seconds threw a towel into the ring after two minutes and 15 seconds of fighting in the sixth round. Chevalier landed the cleaner blows and sent many a punch against Carnera's jaw. The negro also made the giant Italian back up repeatedly. He did not hit Carnera on the body once, sending every blow in the direction of the head.

Carnera missed repeatedly and scored only one knockdown, which came about 30 seconds before the bout ended. Chevalier took a nine count, but was up on one knee for the last five count.

An offer of $750,000 for a bout between Jack Dempsey and Carnera had been announced today by William P. Kyne, prominent San Francisco sportsman.

The announcement followed a conference between Kyne and Gene Nor-

mile, former business manager of Dempsey.

Underwriting in FIRE INSURANCE

Who shall, or shall not, be insured; what property shall, or shall not, be covered; and what amount of insurance shall be accepted, if any? These are problems which daily face the underwriter.

Fire insurance companies do not insure property, but do insure and safeguard the interests of persons or corporations in property.

The property owner's character, financial ability to possess and maintain the property, the usefulness of the property to its owner, his fire record, if any, and other pertinent particulars, concern the underwriter.

Property to Be Covered

The type of property to be covered, be it dwelling, mercantile, manufacturing or personal property, as well as construction, occupancy, fire protection, exposure, damageability, amount of insurance carried compared with the value of the property, along with many other conditions, must be studied by the underwriter.

The underwriter is equipped with insurance maps, surveys, engineering data, confidential character and financial reports, fire records, and other information upon which to base his judgment of a particular line of insurance.

Broad Experience

Underwriters of Stock Fire Insurance companies are men of broad experience who are carefully trained in the selection of desirable, and in the avoidance of undesirable, risks.

The Underwriter renders an important public service by endeavoring to avoid insurance on risks that are likely to produce illegal or questionable claims and a consequent effect on the cost of fire insurance.

20% MORE HEAT FROM TON OF COAL

Steel-riveted Lennox Torrid Zone Furnace Has Extra Large Radiator—And It's Gas-tight

Many home owners report a yearly saving of from $30 to $50 in fuel since buying a Torrid Zone Warm Air Furnace. The special oil-burning model saves even more, and is recommended by all oil burner manufacturers.

Design as much as construction is responsible for this economy. The steel plate, which is hot-riveted and cold-calked to prevent leaking of gas, smoke, or dust, conducts heat more quickly than cast iron and is more durable. But it is the efficient design of the fire-pot and radiator which gets more heat from fuel.

The deep fire-pot insures better combustion. The oversized radiator makes the gases and smoke escaping from the fire-pot travel from 15 to 20 feet before going up the chimney—squeezing from them every last possible bit of heat.

There are seventy-nine different Torrid Zone types and sizes for heating every different type and size of building—and they burn and save hard coal, soft coal, coke, lignite, wood, gas or oil. Made by the Lennox Furnace Company, Syracuse, N. Y.—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

The board spent an hour or more in discussion of matters in connection with election of teachers for the ensuing school year, and at 11:40 P. M. adjourned to Monday, April 21, at 8 P. M.

Passion Week Messages

The Sale of the Christ

Jesus spoke a number of parables on this day, too many to mention in this space. The Jews rejected Jesus fulfilling the words spoken by Isaiah. He spoke of the signs which will come before His coming in the clouds. He pictured a scene of judgment of the righteous from the unrighteous. He told His disciples He is going to be crucified. The chief priest and elders took counsel how they might get Him. Satan entered into the heart of Judas, one of the twelve, and he bargained to betray Jesus for thirty pieces of silver, the price of a slave. How much will you sell the Christ for?

ENSIGN M. PARSONS,
of the Salvation Army.

GROWING INTEREST IN PASSION WEEK

Community Observance Held Every Morning at 10:30 O'clock

AT 620 FRONT STREET

Rev. N. P. Olmsted Gave Message on "The Day of Controversy"

A larger attendance and a growing interest marked the second service, in the community observance of Passion Week, held this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the downtown meeting place at 620 Front street.

Rev. T. M. Krauss presided over this morning's session and Fred Lind led the audience in singing a number of the old hymns of the church. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. G. Patterson and Rev. Carl Ackerman.

In his message on "The Day of Controversy," the Rev. N. P. Olmsted said, "In the challenge of the priests of Jesus' day as to His authority and in their efforts to ensnare Him, they were met with disastrous results as to themselves. His answers continually exposed their hypocrisy. The truth of Jesus is unanswerable. A theological argument does not convert men. Christ's usual method of approval was the parable, the telling of a story so that people could grasp the truth, and back of this teaching was His life. The leaders of that day resented His authority and would not receive the truth he taught; but he had one argument left, which was the argument of His willingness to submit to the cross, and His cry 'Father forgive them for they know not what they do.' If we are going to win men to this Jesus we must present the truth in life, backing it with a life of sacrificial service."

At the service tomorrow morning the Rev. Walter Smith will speak and Rev. Edgar A. Valiant will preside.

Missionary Societies in Joint Meeting

Special Meeting of Directors Consider Situation This Afternoon

J. P. ANDERSON MAY ATTEND

Chamber of Commerce Hopes to Arrange for Conference With Railway Company

President Clem Ryan of the Chamber of Commerce has issued a call for a special meeting of the Board of Directors for 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider the layoff at the N. P. shops.

When asked as to what action was intended Mr. Ryan stated that, in his opinion, the Chamber should do everything possible to help the situation locally by conference and cooperating with the men and the company in an endeavor to reduce the curtailment in force to a minimum.

And, in the event nothing along that line could be done, it was the duty of the Chamber of Commerce as well as all citizens to help find or provide work for those laid off. J. P. Anderson, shop superintendent, was invited to attend the meeting to discuss the situation with the Chamber officials.

The blend that revolutionized smoking

THE INCOMPARABLE BLEND of Camel Cigarettes is probably the most important discovery in the history of smoking. It made cigarette smoking popular. Camel changed the smoking habits of the nation and has given pleasure to more millions of people than any other cigarette.

This exclusive blend assures in Camel a smoothness, a mildness and a mellow fragrance that cannot be imitated. It preserves all the excellent qualities of the choice tobaccos of which Camels are made and melds them all together into a delightful harmony of smoke pleasure. It sets Camel apart as a cigarette of distinctive character and provides for Camel smokers the very highest form of smoking luxury.

Board Considers Election of Teachers for the Ensuing Term

The school board last night considered bids on folding chairs and samples of chairs were tendered by two local firms, Fitzsimmons & Sons and Patek Furniture company. After considerable discussion all bids were rejected, and the purchase was deferred to next September.

Bank depositories were named, the First National bank and the Citizens State bank of Brainerd, the funds being awarded on the same ratio as in the past three years, being a 70-73 percentage.

The Brainerd Musical club desired to present to the board a bass drum for the use of Roy Laddeter and his pep band, the drum being valued at $45. The gift was accepted by the board and thanks expressed.

Passion Week Messages

The Sale of the Christ

Jesus spoke a number of parables on this day, too many to mention in this space. The Jews rejected Jesus fulfilling the words spoken by Isaiah. He spoke of the signs which will come before His coming in the clouds. He pictured a scene of judgment of the righteous from the unrighteous. He told His disciples He is going to be crucified.

The chief priest and elders took counsel how they might get Him. Satan entered into the heart of Judas, one of the twelve, and he bargained to betray Jesus for thirty pieces of silver, the price of a slave.

How much will you sell the Christ for?

of the Salvation Army.

GROWING INTEREST IN PASSION WEEK

Community Observance Held Every Morning at 10:30

O'clock

AT 620 FRONT STREET

Rev. N. P. Olmsted Gave Message on "The Day of Controversy"

A larger attendance and a growing interest marked the second service, in the community observance of Passion Week, held this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the downtown meeting place at 620 Front street.

Rev. T. M. Krauss presided over this morning's session and Fred Lind led the audience in singing a number of the old hymns of the church. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. G. Patterson and Rev. Carl Ackerman.

In his message on "The Day of Controversy," the Rev. N. P. Olmsted said, "In the challenge of the priests of Jesus' day as to His authority and in their efforts to ensnare Him, they were met with disastrous results as to themselves. His answers continually exposed their hypocrisy. The truth of Jesus is unanswerable. A theological argument does not convert men. Christ's usual method of approval was the parable, the telling of a story so that people could grasp the truth, and back of this teaching was His life. The leaders of that day resented His authority and would not receive the truth he taught; but he had one argument left, which was the argument of His willingness to submit to the cross, and His cry 'Father forgive them for they know not what they do.' If we are going to win men to this Jesus we must present the truth in life, backing it with a life of sacrificial service."

At the service tomorrow morning the Rev. Walter Smith will speak and Rev. Edgar A. Valiant will preside.

Missionary Societies in Joint Meeting

The Women's Missionary society and the Junior Missionary society of the First Evangelical Lutheran church held a joint meeting Sunday afternoon in the church basement.

A good program was given, and an offering for home missions was taken. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Minnie Carlson, Mrs. Joan Johnson, Mrs. Peter Redlund and Mrs. Andrew Nelson. About 75 attended the meeting.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

EVELYN READE, young and lovely, is making her first journey alone to visit a friend at Haverford. On the train she meets Kenneth Wilmer, famous artist, who saves her from falling from the platform.

CHAPTER II.

Kenneth pulled the silk handkerchief from his breast pocket, drew it across his face, flushed again before her steady regard. But could not stop smiling. What a little darling she was. Pretty as Spring itself and clever. Sitting there smiling at her, he could not remember when, if ever he had met a girl he considered as clever as this one.

"I'm Evelyn Reade," she told him shyly. "I live up in Connecticut and I'm going to visit a girl who's just got past her honeymoon." She was about to speak of this when the conductor bawled "Haverford" and they had to scramble to get out before the train started.

They stood on the station platform and watched the train roar away toward the north, growing smaller and smaller and finally shrinking to a mere dot in the distance. A dot like a period at the end of something over and done with. Then Kenneth threw back his head, looked a long time at the single blue-white star burning in the April sky, sniffed the sweet, fresh mountain wind, glanced with distaste at the ramshackle station taxi.

"What do you say," he suggested, "that we walk as far as the lane? I'll send some one to drive you from there. But then it's five miles and perhaps you don't like walking?"

"Indeed I'd love it!" And she gave him a look he was never to forget. Admiration was commonplace to Kenneth Wilmer; even adoration had come his way plenty. But what flattered across this girl's face was beyond those hero-worship, perhaps. But whatever it was it set his pulses racing, brought an odd warmth into his throat.

They crossed the railroad tracks, started away up the hill to Stony Mountain Pass. And because the road was steep and sometimes rough he put his arm around her. And because they felt very well acquainted by the time the walls of the Pass had echoed to their laughter and rang to their "Halloo!", and because the world was sweet with Spring and they were young and carefree and thrilled by life, and because she was very beautiful in the soft twilight and he was an artist and loved beauty, he hesitated and came to a stop beneath a leafy yellow-green willow.

His arm tightened on her shoulder; he drew her about so they stood face to face, flushed and smiling, eager to pledge friendship, glad they had met.

Then he kissed her. He never knew quite how it happened and neither did she but all at once he was kissing her and calling her "Eve."

Her lips were warm and sweet and they trembled against his own. And there flashed into his mind the fancy which had come to him on the train, that her cheeks were like plum-blossom petals, and he kissed her cheeks. And he kissed her eyes because they were closed and the little curls at her temples because they were so bright and soft. And he kissed her lips again.

And suddenly he remembered that barely two hours ago he never had seen her and that not even artistic temperament was a wholly reasonable excuse for him. This little Evelyn Reade was one whom his proper married sister would call a "nice girl"; she would know nothing of the debonnaire code that the Lane's art colony protected for a kiss merely a kiss, to be taken and given wherever and whenever the impulse moved—and forgotten as lightly.

Kenneth raised his head, drew it near him forever, an inspiration and a memory.

Very humbly he drew close, slipped his hand beneath her arm. "Eve? Do you mind if I call you that?"

"Since it's my name I don't mind."

"Eve, may I tell you what I was thinking back there? When the light flared and I couldn't speak? May I, Eve? I was thinking how much I'd like to paint you. I've never seen a face like yours. The expression. . . Would you let me paint you, Eve?"

"Oh!" she cried. "Oh!"

"Just as you looked with your hat back and curls all tumbled. You are very lovely, Eve."

He knew she was thrilled to the finger tips, and now he believed what he had told her. He forgot the truth; it was wiped from his mind because he believed this instead.

They were friends again, planning what her picture should be. They were more than friends; they were boy and girl strolling at the edge of romance under blossoming trees, his arm about her, his head dropping as if to tell her things in an intimate way, but really so his lips might brush the curls at her temple.

In January before the year has begun to make rich promises no such chance encounter could have sprung into friendship and hovered upon the verge of love. Nor could it have happened in August when the year's promises all have been fulfilled or broken, nor in October when they are only memories. But this was April when all things are new and even the winds sing a magic song.

Kenneth began to talk of The Lane, that colony of artists, writers, musicians, who live in a valley back of the Haverford hills. He told of the happy-go-lucky informal family sort of life they led, held together by common interest of creative work and a disposition linked by the restraints of more conventional society.

He had a cottage in The Lane and was moving in tomorrow. But tonight he would stop with Elma Shields and Chuck Holly at their cottage. And she needn't draw herself up so shocked and all—they were married right enough but Elma was a Luc Stoner and insisted upon her own name.

"But I'm not shocked, Kenneth. I think it's the most fascinating thing I've ever heard of."

"Well then you must stop and meet them. They'll have dinner waiting. Oh, never mind excuses; Elma'll be delighted. Someone's always bringing someone else to dinner and she loves it. You'll come now—like a lamb!"

She agreed finally, light-headed with excitement. And when finally he led her through a little wicket gate up a long path it had grown so dark that she had only a hazy impression of a low, rambling house and a small, rather chubby woman running out to meet them.

The Hollys accepted her just as Kenneth said they would, casually, with no questions at all. "Elma at once began to call her 'Eve' and it was not long before her tall, gangling, lazy-mannered husband was telling a great many astonishing things about the colony."

But it had been a long day for Eve and the five mile tramp had brought upon her a delicious drowsiness. Only by a struggle did she keep her eyes open at the dinner table and later, when they moved into the long east room she settled in a great chair before a blazing grate and dozed while the others talked.

And finally Kenneth arose, laughing a little, and picked her up and carried her to the leather-cushioned settle which faced the grate. He sat down beside her and she nestled against him, her head on his shoulder with a small sigh of content.

COOL WEATHER HAMPERS TROUT FISHING TODAY

OFFICER H. B. SANDE HAS GREAT LUCK, CATCHING LIMIT BEFORE 10 A. M.

300 LICENSES SOLD TO DATE; PIKE SEASON IN STATE TO OPEN MAY 15

Cool weather kept many fishermen away from the streams today, the opening day of the trout season. The best luck reported was that by H. B. Sande, patrolman on the Brainerd police department, who was back to the city by 10 A. M. with 15 average sized brook trout in his basket, the limit catch.

"Got 'em north of town," Officer Sande replied to many questionings as to where he caught them.

Mr. Sande remained true to the code of the trout fisherman who refuses to tell where his favorite trout stream is.

The trout season will remain open until August 15.

The next fishing season to open in Minnesota is the pike season which gives the sportsman an opportunity to fish on May 15.

Licenses have been going slow, it was reported by Deputy County Auditor Henry Krause today.

So far this year 250 individual fishing licenses have been sold at 50 cents each and 50 family licenses at $1 each have been issued.

Last year 3,977 individual licenses and 1,993 family licenses were taken out. More non-resident licenses were sold in the county last year than resident. These totaled 5,860. The cost is $3 a license.

"Taming of the Shrew"

The gallant, dashing Douglas Fairbanks and his charming, talented wife, Mary Pickford, are seen and heard together for the first time in the United Artists' all talking screen version of Shakespeare's hilarious comedy, "Taming of the Shrew."

And let it be said here and now that these two stars have never been seen to better advantage. They impart to their roles a gay and charming note that is in perfect accord with the characters of this immortal comedy. For not only is it a delight to see and hear Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks in the same picture but in addition, their portrayals are so finely and cleverly drawn, their antics so hilarious and the manner in which they have interpreted the action of "The Taming of the Shrew" so vitally alive and amusing, that audiences will be delighted from the opening scene to the final fadeout.

"Taming of the Shrew," which was directed by Sam Taylor, is showing at the Paramount tonight and Wednesday.

Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society In Timely Suggestions

This is the time of the year to think of the care of your lawn. Do not rake too well. The old material which remains after a light raking makes good fertilizer and affords protection for the new grass. By all means do not burn off the leaves. The heat destroys the tender shoots and burns the decaying material which will be very beneficial later.

Now is the time to begin fertilizing your lawn. There are several good commercial fertilizers on the market and one of the best is ammonium sulphate. Two to four applications should be made during the season.

As damaging frosts are quite likely to come until the 1st of May, do not be in a great haste to remove the covering of winter protection from the flower borders. Remove the coverings gradually. This also holds true for your strawberry patch.

Clean up the gardens, beds, borders, lawn and back yard now, instead of waiting until later on. This will save time and avoid the usual "spring rush."

Try a few new varieties of flower seeds this year. Surprises are what make it interesting. Two new calendars have been their appearance and are an improvement over the older varieties. They are the largest so far known. Sensation is distinguished by its orange-scarlet sheen and Radio is orange with quilted petals. The Ball is another variety that is much superior to the older varieties.

Do not fertilize your Iris except with bone meal. Iris hate manure and acid soil. A small amount of lime is perhaps what your Iris need. Sprinkle a small amount of stacked lime around the plants and work it in.

Buy your Sweet Pea seeds for planting the latter part of this week. One of the secrets of Sweet Peas is getting them in early in order that they may get a good start during the cooler portion of the season.

Spinach is not usually a successful crop in this section and Swiss Chard is a valuable substitute. The leaves may be prepared like spinach and the stems cut and used as asparagus. It gives a continuous supply of greens from summer to late fall.

Gloxinia tubers should be set partly out of the soil as the moisture in the top has a tendency to damp off the sprouts and rot the tuber. Keep water off from the leaves and the tubers off from this plant. Also grow in strong light, but very little sun.

Our next column will give the proper method of planting and caring for sweet peas.

Early American Flag

The first commander in chief of the American navy, Commander Esch Hopkins, used for his standard a yellow silk flag with a reproduction of a rattlesnake in the act of striking. Underneath it were the words: "Do not tread on me." One description of this flag says the rattlesnake was at the foot of a pine tree. It was used in 1776. The exact place it was
